

The graduate of this program will be able to:

- Obtain sufficient and necessary information about factors that support and hinder occupational performance from relevant sources throughout the evaluation process.
- Establish service competency in assessment methods, in accordance with setting procedures and applicable laws, by administering assessments accurately and efficiently to ensure findings are valid, reliable, and timely.
- Administer delegated assessments using appropriate procedures and protocols.
- Assist with interpreting information in relation to the client's needs, factors, and performance.
- Report results clearly, accurately and concisely, reflecting the client's occupational performance.
- Articulate a clear and logical rationale for the intervention process based on the evaluation results and other relevant considerations.
- Select client-centered and occupation-based interventions that motivate and challenge the client to achieve established goals.
- Implement client-centered and occupation-based intervention plans.
- Modify the task and/or environment to maximize the client's performance.
- Recommend modification or termination of intervention plan based on the client's status.
- Document the client's response to services in a manner that demonstrates the effectiveness of interventions.
- Demonstrate respect for diversity factors of others.
- Adhere to AOTA's Code of Ethics and all federal state, and facility regulations.
- Demonstrate knowledge about the organization.
- Adhere to safety regulations and reports/documents incidents appropriately.
- Ensure the safety of self and others during all program related activities by anticipating potentially unsafe situations and taking steps to prevent accidents.
- Articulate the values, beliefs, and distinct perspective of the OT profession to clients and other relevant parties clearly, confidently, and accurately.
- Articulate the value of occupation as a method and desired outcome of OT to clients and other relevant parties clearly, confidently, and accurately.
- Articulate the role of the Occupational Therapy Practitioners (OTP) to clients and other relevant parties clearly, confidently, and accurately.
- Under the supervision of and in cooperation with an Occupational Therapist, use professional literature to make informed intervention decisions.
- Demonstrate through practice or discussion the ability to collaborate with and assign appropriate tasks to, as indicated, the OT Aide or others to whom responsibilities might be assigned.
- Demonstrate through practice or discussion an understanding of costs and funding systems related to OT services, such as federal, state, third party, and private payers.
- Meet productivity standards or volume of work expected of OTA students.
- Communicate clearly and effectively, both verbally and nonverbally.
- Produce clean and accurate documentation.
- Collaborate with FW educator(s) to maximize the learning experience.
- Take responsibility for attaining professional competence by seeking out learning opportunities and interactions with FW educator(s) and others.
- Respond constructively to feedback in a timely manner.
- Demonstrate consistent and acceptable work behaviors.
- Demonstrate effective time management.
- Manage relationships effectively through therapeutic use of self and adjusts approach to meet the needs of clients and others.